

Module 5: The role of IPLC in global climate governance

Module presentation and Learning objectives

In Module 5, we discuss several reasons that describe the importance of bringing IPLC as legitimate actors in global climate policy. We also present current attempts to do so through examples from the literature and existing policy initiatives.

Learning objectives:

1. Familiarize themselves with the history of global governance for climate.
2. Understand the different types of governance related to climate.
3. Study the role of IPLC in global governance.
