

bookbinders, reference books, books written in a foreign language and translated into English, books that make up a set, oversize books, patent impulsoria, books that tell you how to answer any question, books approved by the Pope, a list of books a mile long. Text-books, coloring books, books with a message, almanacs, stamp albums, believe it or not, books you have to read twice, books you can't remember the name of, books worth reading as opposed to books of no value, books you weren't able to read more than twenty pages of, books you didn't like but finished anyway, books you read the end of first, books you started eight times before giving up or maybe you still hope to read them, books you can't give away, books that no one else likes, books that make you forget.

INDIAN FOOTSTEPS

The last thing I want
is someone to love me.

Some other person
talking about love.

Some hungry person
eating their heart out.

Somebody person
with personal hard-on.

A life-size someone
pulling the person.

A smaller-than-life other
in a wooden cigar-box.

A tree on my mountain.

A shin on my sink.

A side dish of something
when there's nothing to eat.
