The vultures have gathered in large numbers. Media people, lawyers, trading card & t-shirt salesmen .... One of our celebrities is down & he's being picked to the bone. Most of the rest of us wait at a distance, fascinated. It's far easier to sort thru another's failings & peer into his soul than into our own. We feel compelled to watch & listen, uncertain whether to forgive or condemn for we know in our hearts we've contributed, however remotely, to this tragedy.
